

What do I say to those who call themselves a Christian yet, gossip and condemn me?

From this moment on... I refuse to live under your self centered, false Christian faith, and your self-righteous microscope. There is nothing Christ-like about you at all. No love, no forgiveness, just pious selfishness, bitterness, hatred and better than though attitude. How dare you judge me with rocks in your hand, I remember the words of Jesus, “he who is without sin cast the first stone”? I forgive you.

You really think you have the RIGHT before GOD to even hold a stone, let alone cast it. Are you serious? For the record, I am a sinful human being with feelings, heart, and spirit and yet I have been forced to be in and live in the situations that I am and have been in that were beyond my control.

All I hear is accusations and condemnations from everyone. You base everything on assumptions and no real facts. Why worry about demons when I have you to destroy me daily.

Where have your kind words been? Where have your kind actions been? What moments did you take to even come by my side and hold me during my hell-atious moments when my world was so demolished and crushed?

If you have never cried all day long from the depth of an empty heart for hours upon hours, days upon days, and months upon months because your soul, your dreams, your real heart has been crushed then you can not, nor will you ever even come close to knowing what real soul wrenching pain all is about. It is because of people's own selfishness that they can not sense nor even experience a God like passion or compassion for others. It's all about you and your feelings.

You tell me to deal with it... really? Why don't you deal with it instead for the both of us since you are such an expert on my life and so much holier and better than me in your eyes? Are you so pious that you can not see others pain and not be moved with compassion for them? Do you have such a huge self-righteous beam in your eye that you cannot see others at all?

For the record, I do NOT want anything to do with the so called Jesus you represent for there is nothing Christ like about you. For the record I choose the real Jesus that died for me, loves me unconditional, and who believes in me when everyone else does not and condemns me not no matter what.

The same Jesus that in while I was yet a sinner, He died for me. The Jesus who I accepted as my personal savior and who lives in me compels me through my spirit by His Spirit and His divine love to love, forgive, restore, encourage and to want to glorify the Father in the process. If you had the same Spirit of God that I have then you should understand exactly where I am coming from.

For the record all I see in you and most religious people who fail to exercise the gifts of the Holy Spirit, is self righteousness, no love, no compassion, no grace no mercy, no kindness no real love no zeal to help someone who is broken hearted, has no hope and feels their life is lost and burdened to hells very end. It is people like you that makes living here on this Earth a hell on earth for most people.

God have mercy on you for your selfishness, your hatred, and your hurtfulness. I only pray that one day you will experience the true love, the true mercy, true forgiveness that I have found in the blood of Jesus Christ.

And because of His blood and His adoption of me as a child of God into His family, it is for this reason that I can forgive you through His Spirit, to love you, and to hold nothing against you. Because He has graciously and mercifully forgiven me, it is that reason that I am so powerfully compelled by His example to do the same for you.

In fact, His word tells me to bless my enemies and to feed them so I pray that God blesses you with a real salvation that causes you to respond in a Christ like way that will bless others and honor Jesus for what He has done for you.

I say all this not with condemnation and bitterness, but with a broken heart for you and your cold uncompassionate un-Christ like heart. Father, forgive them for they know not what they do. Help them to find your REAL salvation that will change them from the inside out.

Thank you for blessing my enemies with your presence. I know that I am one of the greatest sinners on this Earth and yet you choose to adopt me anyway. Thank you for your great salvation to me and in me. I love you for ever. I truly Love you Jesus and I choose to live for you my Jesus every day. I just want to present you to everyone that I can without excuse.
